Mrs. O'Reily and little daughter, Bertha, departed Tuesday morning for their home in Beres ford, S D., after a stay of several nunths in Kirksville, where the day. daughter has been under treatment for a dislocated hip The trouble which was of several yearduration proved a stubborn case, one limb being drawn up much shorter that the other, and, to some extent undeveloped. The first improvement noted was the filling out of the afflicted member. In time the operators were enabled to stretchthe ligaments which held the little limb in its abnormal position, sufficiently to set it. This had to be done several times before the limb remained in place. The last treatment, however, was successful and Dr. Still pronounced her.
